1) Who was the last person you introduced yourself to? How did you introduce yourself (with what words or actions?) Who last introduced themselves to you, and how did they do that?

2) How many times do you need to be introduced to someone before you have a meaningful relationship with them? Which party bears responsibility to deepen that relationship, and what needs to happen for you to feel you want to deepen a relationship with someone you just met?

3) When and how did the Lord introduce Himself to you?

4) Read Exodus 20:1-2. How does the Lord introduce Himself to the people gathered at Mount Sinai that day? Skim Exodus 19 and recall all we gained through our earlier studies of that chapter. Why did the Lord wait to speak to the people till now? What had to happen first?

5) During the message, Pastor Marcus observed that when God says "I AM," He is not just introducing Himself, He is making a very profound statement about Himself. What is that statement and how is it relevant to us today? What other statements does God make about Himself in Exodus 20:1-2? What are the implications of those statements to you?

6) Consider some of the"I AM" statement of Jesus Christ.[1] What are they? Each of those statements tell us something about the Lord and His relationship to us. Thinking of them, what is one way God is either introducing Himself or deepening His relationship with you?

7) Have you ever introduced another person to the Lord? If so, how did you do so, and if not, how would you go about doing that?
